
APPEALS

Section 3. Appeals

If the respondent is not satisfied with the outcome of the Student Code of Conduct procedure, they reserve the right to appeal and must follow the guidelines set forth through the Appeal and Complaint Process (<https://www.blackhawk.edu/Student-Resources/Appeal-Complaint-Process/>).

An appeal can only be submitted if it is discovered that there was information in possession of the College that was not included in the previous procedure process, the sanction was beyond the Student Code of Conduct, or procedures were not followed.

If the respondent does not take responsibility for the alleged violation, chooses not to participate in the resolution process, or an agreement between the respondent and Conduct Officer is not reached, the Conduct Officer shall determine, based upon the review of the respondent's previous disciplinary history and the nature of the violation, appropriate sanctions which will be final with no subsequent proceedings and are not eligible for an appeal.
